
CONSIDERATIONS FOR SELECTING A RE-SEEDING SITE

- Abundance of a natural population of clams with fast growth rates
- Intertidal height
- Sediment type
- Current
- Location in a cove
- Seasonal changes in water temperature, salinity, icing
- Protection from wind and waves
- Predators
- Accessibility and visibility to clam wardens for enforcement of flat closures